REPORT OF SELECTMEN.

To the Citizens of Hillsborough:

Notwithstanding the increased cost of labor and material in every department we are able to report a reduction of $645.26 in the town debt. We have thought best to publish in this report a list of the men from this town in the U. S. Service, so far as we have been able to collect them. We would suggest that as the war is over the town history be completed and published as soon as possible.

The vacancy on the board of selectmen caused by the death of Mr. Charles S. Flanders has not been filled as the inventory and taxes were completed before his death.

REPORT OF BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Correction. By an error the report of the Board of Education is on page 65 and the table on page 67.

~~Following the session of the Special District for the year~~ ending February 1, 1919. My term of service began August, 1918, and this report is based on a knowledge of your schools gained since that time. At the outset it is a pleasure to testify to the excellent work already done, and to the spirit of coöperation which exists.

TEACHERS.

The grade schools were fortunate in retaining the same teachers as they had last year. This is a very desirable condition when the good teacher can be retained in the same school for a series of years. When this condition exists the progress of the pupils is much more uniform, the character of the work more thorough, and it permits the development of a certain esprit de corps among the teachers which is of decided advantage to the schools.

The High School opened in September with an entirely new faculty. This necessitated, of course, a complete readjustment in much of the organization and procedure of the school. However, the work was taken up with commendable zeal on the part of both teachers and pupils, and affairs soon shaped themselves in a very satisfactory manner. The enrollment in the high school in September was somewhat larger than for last year, it being sixty-seven as compared to an enrollment of fifty-six for the previous year. The average membership and average attendance, also, has been somewhat larger.

REPORT OF BOARD OF EDUCATION.

To the Board of Education, Special District:

Gentlemen—Herewith is submitted my first annual report regarding the schools of the Special District for the year ending February 1, 1919. My term of service began August, 1918, and this report is based on a knowledge of your schools gained since that time. At the outset it is a pleasure to testify to the excellent work already done, and to the spirit of coöperation which exists.

TEACHERS.

The grade schools were fortunate in retaining the same teachers as they had last year. This is a very desirable condition when the good teacher can be retained in the same school for a series of years. When this condition exists the progress of the pupils is much more uniform, the character of the work more thorough, and it permits the development of a certain esprit de corps among the teachers which is of decided advantage to the schools.

The High School opened in September with an entirely new faculty. This necessitated, of course, a complete readjustment in much of the organization and procedure of the school. However, the work was taken up with commendable zeal on the part of both teachers and pupils, and affairs soon shaped themselves in a very satisfactory manner. The enrollment in the high school in September was somewhat larger than for last year, it being sixty-seven as compared to an enrollment of fifty-six for the previous year. The average membership and average attendance, also, has been somewhat larger.

ATTENDANCE.

As will be seen from the statistical tables appended the per cent. of attendance for the first twelve weeks of the current school year was ninety-three, compared to a per cent. of ninety-five for the year ending in June, 1918. Under the conditions that have prevailed during the fall and winter months, owing to the prevalent sickness, this is a satisfactory record, much better, in fact, than in the other towns of this district. It is to be hoped that for the remainder of this year we can attain the ninety-five or ninety-six per cent. mark. No other one thing is so vital to the school progress of a child as regular attendance. Other things being equal the pupils who are making the least progress in school are those who are the most irregular in attendance. If a child stays out for a day, that day, so far as the school progress of the child is concerned, is lost, for he cannot make up the work suitably, and he misses the class instruction, which is an important factor. At the most a child receives only about 175 days of school during the year, and if he is absent ten or fifteen days, as is sometimes the case, it seriously interferes with his progress. This matter of regular attendance is, primarily, one for parents to attend to, and, in the great majority of cases, it is well attended to.

In the matter of punctuality, also, we have a fairly good record. One hundred twenty-two cases of tardiness were recorded for the year 1917-1918. For the first twelve weeks of this year seventy-eight cases were recorded. We ought to cut down rather than increase the record of last year. Absence from school is sometimes necessary and unavoidable; tardiness, on the other hand, is rarely so.

COURSE OF STUDY.

In the grades the course of study followed is that outlined by the state department in the Program of Studies for Elementary Schools. This is followed as closely as the organization of our schools permits. This program provides for the organization of the schools on a basis of six years in the elementary schools, and six years in the secondary school, the latter divided into the Junior and Senior sections. At the present time the work in the seventh and eighth grades is not as closely organized as is desirable. The girls are given the opportunity of taking Domestic Arts, but no similar opportunity exists for the boys in Manual Training. Owing to the conditions created by the war it was impossible to secure a person who could do the Manual Training, and at the same time teach the other subjects necessary. Owing to the lack of time also on the part of the teachers in the high school, it has not been possible to give French to the seventh and eighth grades. In order to carry out fully the plan which I suppose was contemplated in organizing the seventh and eighth grades on their present basis, another teacher will be necessary. This addition would also relieve the pressure on the teaching force in the high school, and would allow the different departments to be organized for much more intensive effort. In this way also an up-to-date Junior high school would be possible. As it is now the status of these grades is uncertain. Regarding an extra teacher, Mr. Moody, the headmaster says in his report: "I recommend that one teacher be added to the teaching staff of the high school. Most high schools require not more than five periods of teaching, whereas our teachers, except the principal, each teach seven periods. The most conscientious teacher cannot do justice to the pupil nor to himself under such conditions. A teacher's efficiency would be greatly increased, also, if he could teach his specialties. An additional teacher would make this aim possible and would make the schedule more flexible." It is to be hoped that something may be done another year to remedy this situation.

The course in Agriculture in the high school had to be dropped this year as it was impossible to secure any one who could handle the subject. Unless there is a decided demand for it I doubt the wisdom of again making it a permanent course. If I am correctly informed only about four boys took the course last year.

Regarding the arrangement of class rooms in the high school, Mr. Moody has this to say: "I recommend that the room of the commercial department be changed from its present location to the floor above, and that one of the grades be given the commercial room. Under present conditions high school pupils must go from the top to the bottom of the building for recitations. This not only causes needless disturbance to the grades, but is positively injurious to adolescent girls. . . . It would be an ideal arrangement if the commercial department could have the room now occupied by the seventh and eighth grades, inasmuch as this room is in the rear of the building, is accessible to the high school by a rear stairway, and is completely isolated from the grades. The grades would then occupy the front of the building, which has its advantages."

As to the work in the first six grades we have an opportunity of securing excellent results, and in fact such I find is the case. The work is well organized, the teachers are experienced, and the spirit of the schools is excellent. This I consider very fortunate, for to my mind the work of the first six grades is vital to the future progress of the children in school. In these grades the foundation is laid on which the future progress of the child rests. Therefore it is to be my policy to emphasize the work of these grades.

The work in music is progressing nicely. In the lower grades the work consists of learning rote songs, oral and written dictation, and sight reading. In the middle and upper grades this work is continued, increasing in difficulty, and two part songs are learned. Of the high school Miss Colburn reports: "The work in the high school had been of three parts because we lacked tenor voices. Patriotic music has been used, such as the songs of the Allied nations, community songs, etc. We would be glad to have parents and friends interested in the work visit the regular classes. The faithful and efficient work of the teachers in the several grades has been of the greatest assistance in keeping the work up to a high standard."

The work in drawing is along well developed lines. It includes work in freehand drawing, illustration, perspective, lettering, simple working drawings, poster work, etc. Of this work Miss Baker, the supervisor, reports: "Our aim is to do work that is practical, and that will give the pupils a better idea of good design, and a better knowledge of the careful construction and decoration of simple, useful objects. The teachers have shown much interest in the work, and have done exceedingly well, both in their teaching of the drawing, and in attractively arranging on the wall the work of the children. This is very pleasing to the children, and encourages them to do better work."

CONCLUSION.

The school is one of the biggest interests which confronts our people today. Surveys are being made revealing the condition of the schools. Commissions are being appointed to consider the state of education with a view to showing its strength and weakness. This is excellent. Before treating a patient it is necessary to diagnose his disease. But when all this has been done the fact remains that the greatest single factor in the improvement of the schools lies in the community itself. Its desires, conditions, and ideals will be reflected, in a large measure, in the condition of the schools.

In conclusion permit me to express to you, the school board, my appreciation for your hearty support and for your keen interest in all things that concern the welfare of the schools.

Respectfully submitted,

L. E. PRIOR.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

Members of the Town School Board:

I herewith submit my first annual report on the condition of your schools for the year ending February, 1919.

The following are the teachers for the year beginning in September, 1918:

Elizabeth Thompson, Flat,	Keen Normal, 1 year
Edythe M. Crooker, Lower Village,	Dewey Training School
Sarah Maxwell, Upper Village,	Antrim High
Dorothy Flanders, Upper Village,	High School
Nellie R. Mellen, Goodale,	Keene Normal, Part Course
Cladys Murdough, Center,	Hillsborough High
Frances E. Barnes, Jones,	Radcliffe College
Deborah M. Brown, Merrill,	Watertown Training School
Ida P. Phelps, Bear Hill,	Hillsborough High

It is a fact worthy of notice that of the teachers employed one half of them have received special training for their work, and more than half have received training above the high school. This is a comparatively good record, and it should be the aim to maintain this standard, and to improve it. All recognize now that special training is necessary for the teacher if the best work is to be done. Of course, in a town which has to maintain a number of small, one room, rural schools it is not always possible to secure such teachers, yet it is a standard worth striving for.

BUILDINGS.

One important thing which is needed now to improve the schools in the town district is a definite policy of school house improvement. With the exception of the school at the Lower Village, which is in excellent condition and is very well adapted to school purposes, the buildings are in rather poor condition. Some of them, with not a heavy outlay in money, could be made much more comfortable and suitable for school work. Of course, it could not be expected that all of them could be put in good repair in one year, but if the policy were established of remodeling and repairing one school building a year, it would not be long before the town would have a school plant of which it would be proud. In order to carry out the plan thoroughly it would be necessary, it seems to me, to settle upon a few of the most desirable features a rural schoolhouse should possess, and with this as a standard, make the existing buildings conform to it as far as possible.

Few who are not intimately connected with school work realize the importance in the education of a child of a comfortable, well lighted, ventilated and heated school building, kept scrupulously clean, and supplied with suitable equipment for school work. The small, rural school is necessary in many sections, and the work to be done in it is as important as that done in larger, closely graded schools, yet it too often happens that we assume an attitude of indifference toward it, and pursue the policy of letting "well enough alone." The result of this attitude is that the child in the rural communities is not getting a square deal, yet his education and development is just as important as is that of the more favorably situated child in larger communities. It is not that we are worse off in Hillsborough than in many other towns similarly situated that I comment thus on the condition, but it is in the hope that we may all awake to a keener realization of the vital importance of the education and development of the country boy and girl.

ATTENDANCE.

As will be seen from the statistical table the enrollment for the year ending in June, 1918, was 92 and the per cent. of attendance 91.5. The enrollment in September of the current school year was seventy-four, and the per cent. of attendance for the first term of twelve weeks was about 90.7. This fall and winter the attendance has been somewhat broken up on account of the sickness prevalent during these months. It is to be hoped that we may attain a rank of 95 or 96 per cent in the future. This matter of attendance offers an excellent opportunity for the home and the school to coöperate. No other single factor is more vital to the steady progress of a child in school than regular attendance. A child who is absent frequently, other things being equal, cannot make the same progress and have the same interest in school as one who is regular in attendance. One school last year reached 100 per cent in attendance. This is a remarkable record and one for other schools to strive for.

In conclusion I wish to commend the earnest spirit and endeavor shown by the teachers, and the responsive attitude on the part of the great majority of the children.

Respectfully submitted,

L. E. PRIOR,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

To the Inhabitants of Hillsborough:

The school board of the Town School District respectfully submits its annual report, with that of the treasurer and superintendent of schools.

The district maintained eight schools during the past year. All of these schools, with faithful, conscientious teachers have done excellent work.

At the close of the school year graduation exercises were held in the Lower Village Chapel, there being seven graduates, five of whom are now attending high school in the special school district.

During the several vacations each schoolhouse was thoroughly cleaned, but not painted, owing to the high cost of paint. Various repairs have been made as they have been needed.

Following her removal from the district Mrs. Deborah E. Brown resigned from the school board, at which time Mr. Leonard Martin was appointed for the remainder of the year, when Mrs. Brown's term of office would expire.

The state law requires the school board to state in detail in their annual report the sums of money needed for the ensuing fiscal year for text-books and supplies, flags and appurtenances and high school tuitions. In accordance with this requirement we will state that the district will need for the year 1919-1920 the following sums:

For text-books and supplies .....	$75.00
For flags and appurtenances .....	$10.00
For high school tuitions .....	$500.00

SPECIAL SCHOOL DISTRICT.

The district will be called upon to elect an entire new board of education at its annual meeting. The members having one and two years respectively to serve having resigned, one by removal from town and the other by press of other work. The present board has not lost its interest in the school, but other work does not allow them the time they feel should be given to it.

Expenses in school management as well as in other lines of work have increased so that the voters will be called upon to make their appropriations in accordance with these increases.

We would ask the voters to remember, in considering the treasurer's report that under a law passed in 1917 this account extends only to August 31, 1918, and does not show very accurately the financial standing of the district at the present time. This will be explained at the annual meeting.

On account of the war we were unable to secure a teacher for the agricultural department so had to discontinue that course this year.

The amount required for text-books and supplies will be $600.00

REPORT OF FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

The chief engineer reports thirty-nine calls on the fire department during the year—six being bell alarms. Net loss in precinct $470, represented by small house on Park Street with no insurance.

It will probably be necessary to buy five hundred feet of new hose and raise more money for maintenance of sewers. This expense seems to be rapidly increasing—see general account.

There is a five hundred dollar general account note to be paid and a debit balance of $282.67 to be taken care of this year, all of which means a higher precinct tax.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

To the Inhabitants of Hillsborough:

The School Board of the Town School District respectfully submits its annual report with that of the treasurer and superintendent of schools.

The district has maintained only six schools this year owing to the scarcity of teachers, with an enrollment of ninety pupils.

All of these schools, with faithful and conscientious teachers, have done excellent work.

At the close of the schools in June, graduation exercises were held in the Lower Village Chapel, there being seven graduates, four of whom are now attending High School in the Special District.

During the vacation each schoolhouse was thoroughly cleaned, painted and repaired so far as help could be obtained.

Following the resignation of the treasurer, F. J. Gibson, September 1, 1919, H. E. Harvey was appointed for the remainder of the year.

According to the new state law, when a district shall raise by a tax of five dollars on a thousand dollars of the value of the ratable estates in the district in addition to High School tuitions and officers' salaries, that district is entitled to aid from the state for the balance of the money necessary for their school expenditures.

Valuation of district, $491,805.

Amount necessary for:

High school tuition,	$600.00
Officers' salaries,	275.00

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the Members of the Hillsborough Town School Board:

This report will be unusually short because it should cover the year before the present superintendent came into office, so he cannot speak from his observation during that time.

Following is the statistical table for the year 1918-1919:

Two teachers remain this year in the schools which they taught last year; namely, Miss Elizabeth Thompson at the Flat School, and Mrs. Nellie R. Mellen in the Goodale School, and they are graduates of the Keene Normal School. It is hoped that conditions may be such that a larger number of teachers may remain from year to year in the same school, and so be able to continue a uniform policy.

We urge parents to visit the schools more frequently, and in that way show their interest in the work of the teacher and the children, and in order to be better able to judge of the work being done.

It appears from the records that three children were present on every day of the school year and so belong on the

HONOR ROLL.

Robert W. Card, Flat School, Miss Thompson, teacher.
Edna Howard and Josie Howard, Howard School,
Misses Barnes, Devoy and Shedd, teachers.

In our next report will appear a detailed account of this year's work.

SPECIAL SCHOOL DISTRICT—REPORT OF BOARD OF EDUCATION.

We present herewith our report for fiscal year ending August 31, 1919, with estimate of requirement for year ending August 31, 1921, as well as for the present year. The amounts called for look large, but they are absolutely required if we are to maintain our schools.

The most serious question now confronting us is the shortage of teachers. It is authoritatively stated that twenty-two per cent. of the total teaching force of the country have dropped out of the profession in the last year, the reason most generally given being the inadequacy of salaries.

Salaries paid teachers have not advanced nearly as much as general wages, not as much as living costs, and teachers today, with an advance of perhaps thirty per cent. in their income, find themselves trying to meet the advance of one hundred per cent. in living expenses. This condition prevails all over the country and executives and legislatures are taking action to relieve the situation.

We have been very fortunate in maintaining a full force of teachers who have loyally stood by us, although some of them have received requests to go elsewhere at advances of from ten to seventy-five per cent.

We cannot expect to hold them another year, however, nor secure others, unless we make material advances in salaries. For this reason, as well as for the increased cost of supplies, we must have a much larger sum for the schools than heretofore.

Owing to the increased costs for the schools and to the fact that part of the sum appropriated March, 1919, was to cover a deficit of the previous year, there has developed a deficit in the present fiscal year. The sum of $2,500 should be appropriated to cover this deficit.

We present herewith a report of the amount of money needed for schools for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1921, required by Sec. 21, Chap. 106, Laws of 1919.

BUDGET.

	Elementary Schools.	High School.
For support of schools	$6,100	$4,800
For purchase of text-books and supplies,	600	200
Total,	$6,700	$5,000
Estimate of amount of a $5 tax on the 1920 inventory,	$5,700

We therefore recommend that there be assessed the following sums:

For Elementary Schools,	a $5 tax
For High Schools,	$5,000

There will also be needed to cover deficit in the 1920 accounts, used for 1919 accounts, the sum of $2,500.

Per capita tax,	$600

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the Members of the School Board of the Special District:

A report for the school and fiscal year ending August 31, 1919, is now due from a superintendent of schools, and the present incumbent will make a brief statement, although he was not the superintendent for the time covered by this report.

Following this report is a statistical table which should always be a matter of record. It will be noticed that three of the four members of the high school faculty are not with us this year, and that the teacher of the eighth grade did not return.

Our attendance record, 92.6 per cent., is rather low. Just now we all understand that that low record was due to the prevalence of influenza, but it is best to state that fact here, in order that it may be understood, if referred to at a later date. The room having the highest percentage of attendance was that taught by Mrs. Goddard, in which the seventh and the eighth grade pupils were seated.

It is worthy of notice that in Mrs. Scruton's room, among the first and second grade children, there were only ten cases of tardiness. That surely was a wonderful record. In fact, the promptness with which our children get to school was so exceptional that it was mentioned by Commissioner Butterfield publicly, at a conference in Plymouth last summer. Of course, no one person is wholly responsible, either for the good or the bad in any school system, but I believe that much credit should be given to our truant officer, Mr. Charles Nelson, for his excellent work.

The Honor Roll should be a matter of permanent record. We are very anxious to have children attend school regularly, and gladly make a record of their perfect attendance. We hope to see the names of some boys added to the list next time.

The following children were present every day during the school year of 1918-1919:

HONOR ROLL.

Alice L. Messer,	Grade 7,	Mrs. Goddard, teacher.
Anne B. Lynch,	Grade 6.	Miss Ash, teacher.
Marion E. Carr,	Grade 4.	Miss Arnaud, teacher.
Agnes Casey,	Grade 3.	Miss Brown, teacher.

By the record it will be seen that there were only sixteen visitors at the High School last year; that is a very low record. Visits indicate an interest in the schools, and are helpful to the visitor, the teacher and to the children. You have a school of which you may well be proud; the teachers are doing good work and deserve encouragement.

In closing I repeat that this report does not cover any of the work done since the present superintendent took up his work. That will appear in next year's report.

Respectfully submitted,

AMASA A. HOLDEN,
Superintendent.
